SUNNYVALE BANK ROBBED OF $6000

SANTA CLARA COUNTY BANK OF ITALY BRANCH RAIDED

HOLDUPS CHOOSE LUNCH HOUR TO MAKE HAUL

Locked Safe Prevents Big Loss to Institution—Robbers Take All the Money in Slight and Head Toward San Francisco.

San Jose.—Armed desperadoes held up the Bank of Italy branch at Sunnyvale, nine miles north of San Jose, escaped with $6,000 and fled in an automobile, heading for San Francisco.

Eight persons, four of them bank employees and four patrons, were held at bay by the robbers while they scooped up all the money in sight and fled.

Driving up to the bank while most of the bank staff was at lunch, one of the bandits remained at the wheel of the car while the other three, unmasked, but with drawn pistols, entered. One man posted himself at the door, another leaped through the window of a teller's cage and the third entered the office of the president and commanded all persons there to "lie down flat on the floor, everybody, and don't move!"

When everyone had complied, one of the robbers ordered Cashier Spalding to open the vault.

When Spalding explained that the vault was controlled by a time lock and could not be opened, the robbers set about scooping up all the money in sight, stuffing it into a satchel. They backed out, leaped into the waiting car, the motor of which was running, and fled north on the highway.

LIMIT ON FREE SPEECH SET BY SUPREME COURT

Washington.—The supreme court divided seven to two in an application of the constitutional guarantees of free speech and the liberty of the press, upholding the conviction of Benjamin Gitlow under the New York criminal anarchy law for publishing in the Revolutionary Age and advocating in speeches a manifesto issued by the left wing of the Socialist party. The majority of the court, in an opinion by Justice Sanford, declared Gitlow's conviction did not invade any of his constitutional rights. The statute was valid, it held, and he could be punished under it for advocating acts of force, violence and unlawfulness in general terms. It was not essential that their immediate execution should have been advocated, the opinion stated, nor was it necessary, before a person could be punished under the act, that the language used should have been "reasonably and ordinarily calculated to incite certain persons" to such acts or addressed to specific persons.

Justices Holmes and Brandeis, in the dissenting opinion, asserted that the measure to be applied in each case was whether "the words used are used in such circumstances and are of such a nature as to create a clear and present danger that they will bring about the substantive evils that the state has a right to prevent."

Japan to Show Humiliation

Tokio.—Plans for a "national humiliation day" to be held throughout Japan on the anniversary of the date on which the American immigration act became effective, are being made by the Pacific Civilization society and other patriotic organizations. The movement is not designed to start an agitation against America, the leaders insist, but merely to impress the United States that the dissatisfaction and indignation created by the enactment of the exclusion clause has not died out in Japan.

Refuse Tax Law Rereading

Washington.—The supreme court refused to rehear the case brought by the executrix and the executor of the will of Henrietta Pierce Watkinson, to attack the constitutionality of the California inheritance tax law. In its decision of April 13 last, the court sustained the law and held that the state tax could be imposed before the federal estate tax had been deducted.

Postal Revenues Drop

Washington.—Postal revenues, instead of being boosted, as contemplated in the increased postage rates which became effective April 15, are declining at the rate of more than $12,000,000 a year, it was indicated in a summary of receipts for May. Receipts at fifty selected postoffices for May totaled $27,454,861, as compared with $29,083,231 for April and $29,085,090 for March.

AFFAIRS IN CHINA CAUSING CONCERN

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS AROUSE ANXIETY IN WASHINGTON

WHITES FLEE CANTON AS BATTLE THREATENS

Diplomats Open Conference to Terminate Strike Trouble—Yunnanese Chief Proclaims Hostilities Against People's Party.

Peking.—Appointment of the delegation of secretaries of the various legations, including the United States legation, has created a good impression among the Chinese and is giving the authorities and the conservative, unofficial element a basis upon which to appeal for moderation in the attitude of the natives toward the foreigner.

Washington.—Official anxiety in Washington over the situation in China was increased when Consul General Jenkins, at Canton, reported that a battle between factions for possession of the city was expected, and that foreign residents were leaving the city and its suburbs. The civil administration had retired behind protective barricades on Honan Island.

Consul Jenkins' message indicated that the attacking forces of Cantonese troops under General Hsu, which was within forty miles of Canton, had made better progress than had been expected.

The contending forces are factions of the former South China group, which maintained an independent government in the Canton region under Dr. Sun Yat Sen up to the time of his death. The group then broke up into radical and conservative wings, and the Cantonese forces under General Hsu are understood to be the radical forces, which have declared their purpose of co-operating with the Russian Soviet government and of renouncing all connection with the Chinese central government at Peking.

The civil government of Canton also has been understood to support the Bolshevik theory, but Consul Jenkins said in his message that it was "issuing a series of proclamation denying that it is communist, but at the same time promising numerous socialistic reforms for laborers and peasants."

The Jannan troops are understood to be the provincial forces with which the conservative wing of the former Canton government group allied itself at the time the majority of that group decided to support sovietism.

Defeat of the Yunnanese troops would mean the complete mastery of Canton and its immediate vicinity by a faction which has decided tendencies toward sovietism and would increasingly embarrass the western powers in maintaining for the protection of their nationals the long-held special treaty rights granted for that purpose.

It has been part of the Russian Soviet propaganda throughout Russia and the chief aim of the recent Chinese student demonstrations at Shanghai and elsewhere to force foreigners in China and their governments to forego all of these special rights.

The American consul general at Canton has served notice on both factions that American lives and property must be protected. On his advice, Americans living in the suburbs of Canton retired to safer points, many women and children having been removed at the time his latest message was sent.

LUNATIC, RUNNING AMUCK, IS KILLED BY SACRAMENTO

Sacramento.—C. M. Jones, crazed Yolo county farm worker, shot and killed Richard Burnett, 70, of Oakland, a Crocker Art gallery spectator, and fired more than a dozen shots at others, including the gallery caretaker, before he was finally shot to death by O. L. Brainard, proprietor of an iron works near the gallery. After killing Burnett, Jones walked out of the gallery, and seating himself on the banister of the porch, began shooting at passersby.

Hearing the shots, Brainard came out of his shop with a shotgun, as the maniac was raising his rifle to fire, Brainard sent a charge of shot into the lunatic's body.

Tenn. Town "Monkey" Shining

Nashville.—Dayton is preparing for a general cleanup in order to present a shining face to visitors expected for the evolution trial, July 10. Dayton applied, through its mayor, to the Tennessee board for health for a cleaning up by the department's sanitary squad. The board promised to send a sanitary engineer.

The Flag Goes By

Hats off!
Along the street there comes
A blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums,
A flash of color beneath the sky:
Hats off!
The flag is passing by!

Blue and crimson and white it shines,
Over the steel-tipped, ordered lines.
Hats off!
The colors before us fly:
But more than the flag is passing by.

Sea-fights and land-fights, grim and great,
Fought to make and save the State;
Weary marches and sinking ships;
Cheers of victory on dying lips;

Days of plenty and years of peace;
March of a strong land's swift increase;
Equal justice, right and law,
Stately honor and reverend awe;

Sign of a nation great and strong
Toward her people from foreign wrong;
Pride and glory and honor—all
Live in the colors to stand or fall.

Hats off!
Along the street there comes
A blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums;
And loyal hearts are beating high:
Hats off!
The flag is passing by.

P. T. A. CONGRESS REPORT

The following is a condensed resume of the interesting report given by Mrs. G. S. Schuyler, of the Parent-Teacher congress held in Fresno last month.

The state convention of the Congress of Parents and Teachers for California met in Fresno, May 12 to 15, inclusive. The meetings were all held in the civic auditorium. There were probably from 600 to 1000 people present at every session, 650 were delegates; most of these were women but there were a few men and Campbell was congratulated by our Sixth district president on being represented by one of the few men.

The sessions began at nine and lasted most of the day and until ten thirty in the evening.

The P. T. A. song sung by so many, was an inspiring thing to hear. I wish I might bring to you all of the inspiration and zest and enthusiasm which comes to one in that sort of a gathering. I cannot even touch on all the things I heard for I attended every regular session and some round table discussions.

We were greeted by all the city officials of Fresno as well as by the local associations and they intended that we should enjoy our visit. They entertained us with several school bands and glee clubs and their music was splendid. Those of you who heard the Miramba band at the 1915 Exposition will know the pleasure we had one evening in listening to the Sanger high school miramba band. They played well, more like professional artists than school children.

Did you realize that California has the largest membership of any Congress of Parents and Teachers in the United States? We have 123,000 members now, and are aiming for 150,000 this year. Numbers do not mean much until you begin to think of that large group in this state and similar ones in forty odd other states, banded to gether for just one purpose—the welfare of children. There is nothing we cannot accomplish if we unite our efforts and work. But that means that there is something for each member of the smallest group to do, for if any fail we will fall just that much short of what we could do.

The reports of the various chairmen were given between speeches and when even one could be worked in. I will give just a few of the points that seem to apply especially to our needs.

We were advised to open our meetings on time, with the club women's prayer, with the salute to the flag and the P. T. A. song; to emphasize the meaning of P. T. A. at every meeting—that we are co-operating for the interest and welfare of every child. We should endeavor to get the P. T. A. magazine into every home in order that we should know the best that is going on in our particular work and be able to keep in touch with the whole state. It was suggested that we go to school on opening day and ask mothers to join our association; that we call on mothers during the summer, that we have a program every meeting, perhaps not always instructive but sometimes asking the children to take part, thereby serving two purposes, entertaining your association and drawing out different mothers who might come to see their children when they perhaps would not come for any other reason. Then when the new mothers do come, be friendly, make them feel at home and keep your meetings so interesting that they will want to come again. Reading circles were advocated and book shelves at school where books and magazines on child welfare could be accessible to mothers. So many of the chairmen spoke of the need of publicity. We need to tell people what we have already accomplished and what we are trying to do, otherwise we cannot expect to gain their interest or their help.

Did you know that there was a Japanese association in Berkeley? Perhaps we could interest some of our Japanese families if we approached them in the right way. Everything that our own association has done in the past year was reported by others too, so I will not go over them but name a few of the things that we have not tried but which have been successfully carried out by some others.

One told of being able to remove signs and trees obstructing the view where they were endangering traffic. We might help the grange in their campaign. One had placed the P. T. A. magazine in all the county libraries. Community Sunday school, week-day Bible study and Bible study in schools were sponsored by more than one association. Scholarship funds were provided, defined as "helping the boy or girl to help him or herself to an education." Prizes have been given for perfect attendance in some schools. Anti-cigarette campaigns, better film campaigns and fights against the slot-machines were among the things worthy of our notice.

The thrift chairman gave several good suggestions—that we teach care and protection of public property, and that we teach thrift in school supplies.

One association reported that they were too busy making money to do these other things and I think they were a flat failure. We all know that a certain

A CALL FOR NEW MEMBERS

Campbell Chamber of Commerce met Monday with Pres. Whitman in the chair. A campaign for Chamber of Commerce members is on and anyone of this community is eligible. Those of the district who have the good of the town and surrounding territory at heart should make it his duty to see the membership committee at once. The committee, Mrs. L. L. Miracle, A. A. Purort, J. F. Wehmeyer and Mrs. C. A. Sutter.

Ralston Alison, the enthusiastic and tireless chairman of the road committee, urged the improvement of several of the out-of-town roads that are much in need of repair.

The telephone toll matter was discussed and referred to the public improvement committee, H. C. Smith, Horace Lea and Chas. Shumway.

S. N. Hedegard wants our biggest advertisement, our schools, displayed at night, and after a discussion of more light the matter was referred to the public improvement committee who were asked to meet with the school board next Wednesday evening.

The road signs are to be repainted according to the report of the committee in charge.

The publicity committee, Mrs. Wehmeyer, G. E. Farley and W. C. Bohnett will report on an advertising campaign at next meeting.

DOUBLE WEDDING

A double wedding was solemnized Sunday in San Jose in which Campbell is interested. The contracting parties were Miss Dorothy Witmer, of the County hospital and Floyd Gunter, Miss Anna Nystrom and Edw. Anderson. Following the ceremony the two happy couples started on a honeymoon trip north, Mr. and Mrs. Gunter going to Seattle and other points, Mr. and Mrs. Gunter accompanying them as far as Portland thence east to North Dakota. They will be gone about three weeks.

Mr. Gunter is master mechanic and co-partner with Frank Rego in the Orchard City Garage and will make his home here as soon as he can get a suitable house.

Campbell wishes these newlyweds a successful and happy life and extends a hearty welcome on their return.

One told of being able to remove signs and trees obstructing the view where they were endangering traffic. We might help the grange in their campaign. One had placed the P. T. A. magazine in all the county libraries. Community Sunday school, week-day Bible study and Bible study in schools were sponsored by more than one association. Several benefit affairs are being planned to be held in the near future.

JUDGE McCORMICK AND THE DOHENY CASE

One of the outstanding judicial figures in the country today is Judge Paul J. McCormick, the California federal judge, who the other day dealt the Doheny interests a solar plexus blow by his decision.

It will be remembered that a senate committee spent months "investigating" the Albert B. Fall-E. L. Doheny manipulations; it was shown that Mr. Fall, as secretary of the interior, had granted certain leases in naval oil reserve number one, Elk Hill, California, to Mr. Doheny and also given him contracts for construction of oil storage facilities in Pearl Harbor, Hawaii; and it was also brought out by the committee that Doheny was involved in the payment of $100,000 in currency, conveyed in a satchel to Fall. The testimony brought out by the committee and the comments made by committee members had the right of way on the front pages of every newspaper in the country; during the recent presidential campaign the case was also given much publicity; then, all of a sudden, nothing more was heard of the matter, and the public, doubtless, thought that financial and political pull had won out against justice and right. Fall was reported as having gone back to his Oklahoma ranch and was living in bucolic quiet and Doheny had permitted himself to go into public and political seclusion.

But while Fall was busy admiring those pedigreed cattle that had been sent him from the east and Doheny was estimating the probable profits from naval oil reserve lands and oil storage plants, Judge McCormick, down in Los Angeles, spent days and nights, for a period of over six months in hearing the so-called Doheny case; in his efficient and able manner, he delved into every aspect of the case; every detail was taken into account; all facts were established. No sensational handling of the case and tactics employed at the senate committee hearing, were permitted by Judge McCormick; hence the newspapers had very little to say of the case during its hearing by Judge McCormick.

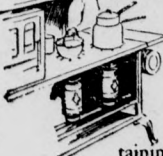

Then, one night—it was May 28 to be exact—the papers came out with big front page headlines to the effect that Judge McCormick had decided that Doheny had obtained his leases and concessions through fraud and that these leases and concessions should at once be restored to the people. Judge McCormick's decision was voluminous, as it necessarily had to be, for it covered 92 points of fact and 14 conclusions of the law. But the main thing that was clear and interested the people was that at last a government official, with authority, had come forward and put his stamp of guilt upon Doheny and Fall—had yanked them out of their seclusion, so to speak, and in no uncertain words meted out his punishment.

Judge McCormick's decisions will find popular approval among those millions and millions of citizens who believe that loyalty to their country is a cardinal principal in their daily lives.

Maybe Judge McCormick's only reward will be the consciousness of having performed his duty; but he is also deserving of another reward, and this, because of his judicial experience and success in his work as federal judge—promotion. The California supreme court and the United States supreme court need members like Judge McCormick.

GRAM. SCHOOL NOTES

The girls of the low 8th grade, Miss Farman's cooking class, gave a dinner Tuesday to the teachers of the Grammar school. The menu was: pineapple and cheese salad; salted crackers, roast veal, mashed potatoes, carrots and peas, Spanish cream, coffee.

The following girls had charge: Clara Rice, Ila Hoerler, Jennie Leech, Velma Hohr, Grace Amato, Misowa Takato.

The food was cooked well, served perfectly and thoroughly enjoyed. It was another example of the fine work Miss Farman is doing at the grammar school.

There will be exhibits of work in the corridors, cafeteria and the different rooms. The patrons of the district are invited to come to school.

The wages of unselfishness is life. Port wine is now any kind that gets thru the port.

amount of money is essential but if we stressed that altogether, the world would be a mighty poor dwelling place. Child welfare is a material thing but it is far more a spiritual. Unlimited money cannot make up for the lack of character.

Near the end of the convention there was a symposium on organization and I'll try to briefly outline the working plan. The first congress was organized 28 years ago and our State Congress 27 years ago. California is so large it has been divided into fifteen districts. The state officers and chairmen compose the state executive board. The districts for more efficient work are divided into federations and these are made up of local associations as many as can work well together. Campbell belongs to the Foothill federation, only recently separated from San Jose. We are also a unit in the 6th district which extends from Palo Alto to San Luis Obispo.

The presidents of the locals and various chairmen and the elected officers make up the federation executive board. For the U. S. Congress of Parents and Teachers to do the best work, reports must come from each state. They in turn must have reports from the districts, they from the federations and the federations from the local associations. This year the U. S. Congress presented a picture to California as a prize for the best work in humane education. This is entitled the "Spirit of Motherhood." It was on exhibition and is to remain in California.

Through all the speeches and many of the reports ran the theme "Education for Parenthood," the only profession that is entered without knowledge and with little idea of its responsibilities.

There were a number of good speakers, Will C. Wood being among the best. He spoke on the "Overburdened School," beginning with a resume of patriarchal life, showing the father of the family as the business head, educator and priest; gradually the functions of the head of the family have been given over to the schools, until now even character training is largely left to the schools and they are overburdened and must have assistance. He said while California has many resources, the only ones of real value are the human ones.

Mr. Vaughn McCov, representing the State Teachers' association, spoke on "Father and the Boy." He thought the tendency was toward better homes but felt there were too many "absentee fathers." Fathers must take more responsibility for son's welfare and they must get together more.

Mr. Loren Barclay, representing the Children's Foundation, spoke on "Fragile Homes." He agreed with Mr. Wood that the function of the home had been given over largely to the schools. He said American homes would vanish unless they had a vital function—also that no institution could take the place of home or mother either morally or spiritually. He gave some data as to the causes of fragile homes:

One home in four foreign; 60% of the people rent instead of own their own homes; one in four women work; one in three mothers work; living conditions crowded; divorce 6½ times that of seventeen other civilized nations.

Responsibility belongs in the home and must be there if the parenthood is vital. Records in divorces could be changed in five years if parents were trained. Vassar has just put in such a course.

Mr. Barclay also made a second speech on a book gotten out of the Children's Foundation, "The Child—Its Nature and Its Needs." It is the result of a survey made by trained men and is scientific but not technical and endorsed by the National Congress.

"Development of Personality" by Mr. Cooper, superintendent of Fresno schools. Personality is affected by things biological, physical, mental, social and ethical. Many are handicapped by bodily defects. Right habits are helpful to development.

Capt. Dancy, of the American Legion, said the world's greatest need is education. Educate your children to reverence the flag, respect the constitution, to demand a clean press and clean movies. "As the home is, so shall the nation be." Do not be indifferent or too busy for home school, church, God.

Mrs. Hubbard, editor of P. T. A. magazine, said our ideals were more important than our ideas, but they must be lived not preached; that we should look to our children for beauty and love and happiness and not for a duty due us from them.

A number of resolutions endorsed by the convention are worth mention: One endorsing the safety program of the automobile club; others protesting the block system of motion picture distribution and the same system of magazine distinction.

HIGH SCHOOL P. T. A.

The last meeting of the P. T. A. A. was held Tuesday afternoon in the Campbell Union high school, Mrs. F. E. Duncan presiding. In appreciation of her work as head of the association and to Miss Marian Jenkins as Secretary, a rising vote of thanks was given to both.

Mrs. Rice, delegate from the association to the state convention held in Fresno, gave a splendid report that was enjoyed by those present.

Election of officers followed. Mrs. W. I. Merrill being elected President; Mrs. Zilmer, Vice-President, Mrs. Rice, Treasurer, Miss Marian Jenkins, Secretary. The balance of officers and the chairman of committees to be elected and appointed at the beginning of the coming year.

The meeting then adjourned to the annex, where the oral expression class, under the direction of Mrs. Hummel, presented an amusing one-act play entitled: "Spreading the News," that was enjoyed by all present.

It is hoped that in the coming year great things may be done in P. T. A. work. The attendance has not been as large as it had been desired, but only by co-operation between parents and teachers can we bring about results in the effort to create harmony and understanding between the home and the school.

Let us all work for a larger membership, greater attendance and better and bigger things in the coming school year.

CONG'L CHURCH NOTES

This church extends hearty congratulations to all the young people of this community who at this time are finishing another year of school; and particularly to those who are graduating from high school, college and other educational institutions. "The end of the exploration is the beginning of the enterprise."

"O Carpenter of Nazareth, Builder of life divine, Who shapest man to God's own law,

Thyself the fair design, Build us a tower of Christ-like height,

That we the land may view, And see, like thee, our noblest work

Our Father's work to do."

Next Sunday is Children's Day and it is a great day for our church. At 10.30 there will be a combination service of the Sunday school and the service of the morning worship. Note the hour—10.30. Everyone is invited to this service. A beautiful and interesting program is being prepared in which all departments of the Sunday school are uniting. The title is "Our Land of Life." There will be several series of exercises centering about the subjects of: "Oil," "Light," "Spreading the Light," "Light Bearers of Today."

The offering taken will be for the work of the Sunday School Extension Society. Come early to be sure of a good seat. Those having a part in the program are asked to be present at 10 o'clock.

Sunday evening at 7.30, the annual Baccalaureate service will be held at the Methodist Episcopal church, when the sermon before the graduating class will be preached by Rev. George L. Marsh. All teachers and pupils of all schools especially are invited to this service.
